TANGLED LIES

Karen E. Osborne

SYNOPSIS & REVIEWS

On an icy day in February, Grandmother Vera Moon arrives home to find her grown son Charlie brutally murdered. She vows to find the killer who has managed to elude the police. Not knowing where to begin, Vera is involved in a suspicious hit-and-run car accident, witnessed by a young woman, Dani, on the run from the train-wreck of her own life.

As circumstances throw Vera and Dani into an unlikely alliance, the two find themselves embroiled in a web of truths and lies that imperils them both, but also may bring Charlie's murderer to justice.

AUTHOR BIOGRAPHY

Karen E. Osborne is the award-winning author of the suspense novels Getting It Right, and Reckonings, historical fiction True Grace, and murder mysteries Tangled Lies and Justice for Emerson. As a kid in the Bronx, Karen kept friends enthralled with adventures she pretended to have experienced. Marriage, children, and a wonderful career, first as an academic administrator and then co-owner of The Osborne Group consulting and training firm, sidelined her ambition to be a writer until one day Kara, the protagonist in her first novel, began speaking to Karen. A native New Yorker, Karen lives in Port Saint Lucie, FL with her husband Robert. They have two grown children and three grandsons.
